

Dear parents,

The common task of school, police, city and parents is to make the way to school as safe as possible for the children so that they can master this route independently.

Our route to school helps parents choose a safe way to school. Before the first day of school, please practice this way to school with your child and point out sources of danger. If possible, crossing the street between parked cars should be avoided.

Always be a role model in traffic and make sure that your child wears bright and reflective clothing. Send your child off early in the morning to avoid hurry.

Please do not take your child to school or pick you up by car.

"From here I can do it alone!"

The section of the city map around the peace school shows you the "From here I can do it alone!"

- You can stop at these points to let your child get out.
- From these points, your child has a short, safe walk to school.
- When driving on, you can avoid the intersection in front of the school and additionally relieve the traffic situation in front of the school.

All parents can say goodbye and pick up their children in the school playground until the autumn holidays. After the autumn holidays, your child can master the way to school effortlessly and safely, either alone or in student groups. In this way, we strengthen your child's self-confidence and sense of responsibility and ensure that all school colleagues keep an overview of people on the school premises and in the school building.
